

Dear Host Family,

My name is Faviola I'm 19 years old and I'm from Lima-Perú.

I'm a third year Human medicine student at Ricardo Palma's university and I love my career.

My first language is Spanish and I also speak English, French, a bit of Japanese and I was starting to study Italian, I like to learn new stuff, like languages, and it's quite interesting too, because I can learn more about their countries, their culture, for example.

In my spare time I like to listen to music, watch TV, play basketball or jogging and I love going to the cinema with my friends or family. On vacations, I like to travel, to visit new places and countries.

I live in a house with my mother, father and my older sister. My dad is an engineer and he works at Panasonic; my mum is an economist and she works for the government, and my sister studies medicine too.

I also have two dogs, they are Schnauzers, and they are always happy and hungry.

I would love to visit your country and to know more about your interesting culture and language.

hugs, and kisses,

Faviola
